Medium to Full Bodied Reds

2011 'Pegasus' Reserve- 'Hot Rocks' Pinot Noir

Grown along the banks of the Molalla river this spot gets 10-15% more heat due to the stone reflection and thin soils. What comes out is a deeper, darker Pinot Noir that is more muscular than most. This wine is named for my alma mater (UCF) and proceeds will fund a hospitality scholarship.

$6- glass / $22 bottle / Aurora Club $18

2009 Walla Walla Sangiovese "Grosso"

From one of our favorite vineyards comes an aromatic wine with deep garnet color & with hints of cassis, cherry and spice. This will be a long lived wine. Aged two years in French & American oak this wine is great pastas, cheeses & roasts or on its own. $7 glass / $25 bottle / $20 Aurora Club

The 'Aurora'- Walla Walla Red Blend

A rich, but not over the top, blend of Syrah, Sangiovese & a bit of Merlot that's smooth dark cherry and blackberry notes on the front & layered oak on the finish. Medium bodied so it's great on its own- but hearty enough to carry you through the nights...

$7 glass / $22 bottle / $18 Aurora Club

Also available in a large format Magnum $55/45 Club

"Speed Trap Red" New Release

Cabernet Franc (43%) / Cabernet (27%) / Merlot (30%)

Bank Robber Red - BIG Red Blend

A criminally good blend of Walla Walla grown Merlot & Cabernet and a touch of Petite Verdot . Quite a bit of aromatics of dark plum and black cherry with a deep body with light tannins on the finish. Named for the women who took the town's money to win back her husband (it didn't work) Look in the vault for more stories...

$7 glass / $24 bottle / Aurora Club $18
