The Pheasant Run Story-

The wines are ours... made by our own gentle hands (and feet). White Wines & Pinot Noir are grown in our Salmon-Safe certified Pheasant Run and Hot Rocks Vineyards- just a few miles outside of town. Our vineyards were full of pheasants when planted in the 1980s.

The Big Red Wines are made from fruit grown in premier vineyards in Walla Walla and beyond. Cabernet, Merlot etc don't ripen here in the valley (yet.)

Our Tasting Room-

Originally part of the 1905 Portland World's Fair, it is made of cast concrete blocks that was high-tech at the time. It was dismantled and rebuilt here to become the town's bank. The vaults hold great stories that are all true!

The Aurora Colony

Aurora was settled as a "Utopian" Society in the 1850s. The businesses (mill, hotel, stores) and lands (hops, fruit & hazelnuts) were owned by the community and everyone lived and worked together in harmony.

Who is Bank Robber Red named for?

👉 Emma- who worked at the bank for 4 days and stole nearly $300,000 in today's $$$ to win back her husband?

*"I knew that if I could get a big amount of money my divorced husband would marry me again. I had determined to see him and arrange for our remarriage even before I took the money".
(check out the vault for the rest of the story)*

👉 The Co-Conspirators, one man who stole $1500, but left $20,000 for the police chief's share.

The chief claimed it was a 'communist plot' to give him a bad name

👉 The Crooked Bankers who loaned money on bogus mortgages and were indicted for fraud (twice).

👉 The Safecracker couple who got caught one day after tying a teller up with the safe deposit boxes.

Headline "Coed Cashier Saves Town's Money"

👉 The Embezzler- Aurora bankers who went to federal court for fraud ~ the trial was adjourned until 7:30pm so everyone could watch the opening day of baseball

Headline "Court Adjourns for Game"
